FOREWORD

2021 marks the 10th anniversary of the EPRA Sustainability Best Practices Recommendations. A big milestone, but not the only one, as this year sees also the number of Award winners passing the 100 members threshold for the very first time. Further encouraging figures indicate that 90% of EPRA members report at least one Social Performance Measure, and 82% at least one Environmental Performance Measure.

The Covid-19 crisis has clearly moved ESG to the top of everyone's agenda, bringing an extra focus on sustainability, wellbeing and social responsibility. Listed property companies and their ability to take a long-term view on their development, have a duty to factor ESG into their strategy to be able to commit to local communities in the highest standard.

In this context, the European Commission's latest actions to promote greater transparency on ESG-related risks and performance in order to guarantee we reach 55% greenhouse gas emissions cut by 2030 is very welcomed by EPRA. Many dossiers are currently on the table, with the EU Taxonomy and the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) being at the forefront.

With the ten years of the EPRA sustainability standard, European listed real estate companies and investors are ahead of the curve, and EPRA is making sure that the specificities of our sector are being addressed in the upcoming legislations and that our industry continues to lead by example.

On a final note, I would like to thank our partner JLL for their contribution and support to make this review possible each year, as well as the Sustainability Committee and EPRA's ESG team for their continuous commitment in leading the uptake of the sBPR industry standard across the European sector.

Dominique Moerenhout - CEO EPRA

FOREWORD

We are extremely pleased that the momentum we observed in 2020 has continued into 2021. Building on last year's achievements, 102 Members, representing 62% of EPRA's membership, achieved an Award in 2021, with record numbers receiving Gold and Silver Awards.

We would like to recognise the efforts of all EPRA members who have devoted the necessary time and resources to prepare their sBPR disclosures during what has undoubtedly been a challenging year. Within this context, 15 Members received an Award for the first time in 2021, of which Arima, Irish Residential Properties, St Modwen and Warehouse REIT all received a Gold Award having achieved No Award in 2020.

In this year's report, we have once again taken a deeper look at Member's reporting against the Performance Measures and Overarching Recommendations to provide an analysis by Award level. We have identified key 'quick wins' that we hope will support Members who want to improve their compliance with the sBPR. In our experience, the margins between Award levels can be small, and we hope the 'quick wins' included in this report provide useful guidance on the often straightforward steps that Members can take to boost their performance.

While 2020 and 2021 will forever be associated with COVID-19, there are two other significant events that are worth highlighting with respect to the importance of robust and credible ESG reporting. Firstly, 2020 saw record inflows into ESG funds, and this trend has continued into 2021. At the same time, there are renewed efforts to harmonise ESG reporting standards and legislation, particularly at the EU level, which is moving towards mandatory key performance indicators for ESG topics.

In this respect, we firmly believe the sBPR will continue to play a leading role in establishing a consistent and comparable framework for the listed European real estate sector, and drive transparency to enable the investment community to make informed decisions on companies' ESG performance.

2021 marks the 10th year that we have supported EPRA on the EPRA Sustainability Awards. We would like to thank EPRA, and the Sustainability Committee, for their ongoing partnership in helping to drive the sustainability agenda forward, and for their leadership in pushing for improved ESG reporting and public disclosure during these unique times.

Tom Branczik - Associate Director, JLL

SCOPE OF THE SURVEY

Annual and sustainability reports for the year ending between 1st July 2020 and 30th June 2021 inclusive were reviewed for all EPRA Members. As of 31st March 2021, this included a total of 166 companies.

4 Members won Gold for the 10th year running

9 Members moved up an Award category

62% of Members received an Award, up from 59% in 2020

90% of Members report at least one Social Performance Measure

31% of Members report all Performance Measures, up from 25% in 2020

4 Members went from no Award straight to Gold

82% of Members report at least one Environmental Performance Measure, up from 74% in 2020

2021 RESULTS SNAPSHOT

As we mark the 10th anniversary of the Sustainability Best Practices Recommendations (sBPR) since their launch in 2011, we are encouraged by both the continued growth in Members using the guidelines and the rising standard of their reporting.

With the addition of 18 new Members this year, we saw the number of Award winners climb from 90 in 2020 to 102 in 2021, equating to 75% of the total value of all companies included in this year's assessment when weighted by market capitalisation.

This year's new Members continue to add to the diversity of companies receiving an Award, originating from North America, Israel and across Europe, with market capitalisations ranging from EUR86 million to EUR2 billion. This demonstrates the value that Members, large and small, place in the sBPR to provide an industry-specific framework to publicly disclose their environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance.

The rising standard of reporting is reflected in the higher numbers of Members receiving a Gold or Silver Award. 70 received a Gold Award in 2021 (69%), 23 received a Silver Award (23%), and 9 received a Bronze Award (9%).

The higher proportion of Gold and Silver winners shows Members' dedication and readiness to increase their disclosure and further their transparency and accountability to the investment community and other stakeholders. This is supported by the proportion of companies not receiving an Award reducing from 41% in 2020 to 38% in 2021.

In total, 9 Members moved up an Award category including four companies who moved from Bronze to Silver, and five companies who moved from either Bronze or Silver to Gold.

It is also encouraging to see the number of new Award winners. Of the Members receiving an Award for the first time, six received a Bronze Award, five received a Silver Award, and four received a Gold Award.

AIMING FOR YEAR-ON-YEAR IMPROVEMENTS

This year, 44 companies improved their score compared to the previous year.

The eight Members with the most improved scores are all companies with market capitalisations ranging from EUR250 to EUR1300 million. Between them, they increased their scores by an average of 67% with the largest improvements achieved by Warehouse REIT and Arima who moved from no medal to Gold Awards, and Deutsche Konsum REIT who moved from no medal to a Silver Award.

We hope these improvements, achieved in a single reporting cycle, illustrate what can be achieved by reporting against a higher number of Performance Measures and systematically applying the Overarching Recommendations. We encourage all Members to be ambitious and continue their climb to Gold.

The EPRA sBPR Adviser tool and the Q&A document are available to help you understand the guidelines as they relate to your portfolio. For more information, please visit <http://www.epra.com/sustainability/sustainability-reporting/sbpr-adviser>

ANALYSIS: PERFORMANCE MEASURES

Companies must report against approximately 60% of the Performance Measures to receive an Award, as they account for half of the total score. This year, 90% of Members reported at least one Social Performance Measure and 82% of Members reported at least one Environmental Performance Measure, with the latter up from 74% in 2020.

Following a similar pattern to 2020, the most reported Performance Measures were related to governance, employee diversity and turnover, green building certifications and GHG emissions. Conversely, the least reported Performance Measures consisted of community engagement, health and safety compliance, gender pay ratio, and waste.

Member's looking to improve their performance should aim to respond to all Performance Measures, or explain why they are not applicable.

PERCENTAGE OF MEMBERS REPORTING SOCIAL PERFORMANCE MEASURES BY AWARD CATEGORY

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT: COMTY-ENG (2% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Community engagement relates to the percentage of assets under operational control that have implemented local community engagement, impact assessments and/or development programmes. For the purposes of aligning with the EPRA sBPR, organisations can use their discretion to determine what constitutes an 'engagement' but we recommend three broad categories; impact assessments, development programmes and engagement programmes with local stakeholder groups such as communities and municipalities. Members should explain the scope of activities included in this Performance Measure in their Narrative on Performance (see Overarching Recommendations).

ANALYSIS: PERFORMANCE MEASURES

PERCENTAGE OF MEMBERS REPORTING ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE MEASURES BY AWARD CATEGORY

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT: LIKE-FOR-LIKE PERFORMANCE MEASURES (10% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Like-for-like Performance Measures are a necessary complement to absolute Performance Measures as disclosure on a like-for-like basis shows a change in performance unrelated to fluctuations in portfolio size resulting from acquisitions, disposals, major refurbishments and developments. Companies should use these Performance Measures to understand which assets and asset types are improving or declining in performance. These measures can also be used to communicate the success of programs and initiatives regarding energy, water and waste efficiency. Like-for-like performance must be reported for at least the two most recent reporting years and applies to all energy, water and waste Performance Measures.

ANALYSIS: OVERARCHING RECOMMENDATIONS

The Overarching Recommendations account for the remaining 50% of the available points. They provide the context for each Performance Measure by explaining the scope, boundaries and limitations of the available data.

Successful reporting therefore requires you to systematically apply the Overarching Recommendations to each Performance Measure.

The most commonly applied Overarching Recommendations include Organisational Boundaries, Coverage and Segmental Analysis. Members who did not receive an Award scored on average 59% lower on these Overarching Recommendations compared to Bronze Award winners.

Members looking to improve their score, or achieve an Award for the first time, should clearly articulate their reporting scope and boundaries, the percentage or number of assets within the organisational boundary, and the reasoning behind any segmental reporting such as by building type and/or location.

AVERAGE SCORE PER OVERARCHING RECOMMENDATION BY AWARD CATEGORY

ANALYSIS: OVERARCHING RECOMMENDATIONS

QUICK WINS – The most commonly applied Overarching Recommendations across all Award categories include Organisational Boundaries, Coverage and Segmental Analysis. We recommend Bronze and Silver Award winners looking to improve their performance focus on applying the following Overarching Recommendations across their reporting.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT:

BOUNDARIES - REPORTING ON LANDLORD AND TENANT CONSUMPTION (10% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Members must report, at a minimum, utilities consumption that they are responsible for obtaining themselves (landlord-obtained and billed). This should be clearly labeled. Where energy and water is obtained by the landlord but consumed in tenant areas, and is submetered, such consumption should be itemised. Utilities obtained and consumed solely by the tenant must be reported separately. This applies to all Performance Measures related to energy and water consumption, including intensity measures (Normalisation).

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT:

BOUNDARIES - ESTIMATION OF LANDLORD-OBTAINED UTILITY CONSUMPTION (5% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Members must disclose whether the consumption data is calculated using estimations where data is partially unavailable or unreliable. In any such instance, Members must disclose a) the proportion of data estimated; and b) the method used to calculate the estimation. If no estimations are applied, this should be clearly stated. This applies to all Performance Measures related to energy and water consumption.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT:

BOUNDARIES - DISCLOSURE ON OWN OFFICES (3% OF TOTAL SCORE)

Where Members lease their corporate offices, this should be stated, and applicable Performance Measures should be reported separately from their investment portfolio. Where Members own their own offices, this should also be stated. Applicable Performance Measures can be reported alongside other assets in their investment portfolio, but must follow EPRA's requirements regarding Segmental Analysis.

AWARDS METHODOLOGY

A panel of JLL sustainability reporting experts have scored the public disclosure of all EPRA Members against the following three areas of the EPRA sBPR guidelines:

- 16 Performance Measures relating to energy, greenhouse gas emissions, water, waste and building certifications
- 12 Performance Measures relating to social and governance indicators
- 10 Overarching Recommendations which underpin good quality disclosure and should be applied when reporting the EPRA sBPR

INDIVIDUAL FEEDBACK ON AWARDS AND RESULTS

Companies will receive an individual sBPR feedback report prepared by EPRA to help them identify the main focus areas where disclosures need to be improved.

This feedback report is an initiative of the EPRA Sustainability Committee to enhance the non-financial reporting of listed property companies and to strengthen the adoption of the EPRA sBPR.

REVIEW PROCESS

A detailed primary review of annual reports was performed by JLL's Upstream Sustainability Services team.

A second review by a different member of the team was carried out for companies who scored within four percentage points of an award threshold, and those whose score had changed significantly compared to 2020.

An additional review of the group of companies within two percentage points of an award threshold was performed by EPRA.

Companies were ranked according to their survey score.

The most improved reports were identified based on the largest increases in score in comparison to the previous year.

The results were shared with EPRA to determine the final allocation of awards.

Exceptional adherence to sBPR. Scoring above 85%.

High adherence to sBPR. Score between 70% & 85%.

Reasonable adherence to sBPR. Scoring between 60% & 69%.

Award recipients who achieved a 30% points YoY increase in their score in comparison to the previous year.
